NEW BUSINESS:.

Item 5. General Informational Report of the President.

Statement: Dr. Cole called on Dr. Lisa Saladin who introduced Dr. Gustavo Leone, Director of the Hollings Cancer Center. Dr. Leone shared a map of South Carolina showing the distance between MUSC and the closest NCI designated centers from MUSC. Dr. Leone reported that the SC Rural Health Association designates more than 75% of SC as rural. He also commented that the I-95 corridor through SC is the most underserved region in the nation. He shared the mission and vision of the Hollings Cancer Center and shared data on MUSC's research programs that has seen a 22% increase in NCI funding in the last 4 years. Dr. Leone also reported that there has been both internal and external increases in the number of high impact publications including The Lancet and JAMA. Dr. Leone discussed immunotherapeutic strategies and shared statistics on the clinical trials and accruals. He shared some of the Community Outreach and Engagement (COE) Office’s statewide collaborations including the Mobile Health Unit; and the NCORP MU which expands NCI trial access to 8 rural and underserved communities in South Carolina.

Dr. Leone shared accomplishments of Hollings Cancer Center since March 2017 include a new five-year strategic plan; organization realignments; expanded pilot funding programs; improved research training support; translational initiatives; patient access and marketing initiatives; philanthropic initiatives and the CCSG submission and site visit. Dr. Leone shared with the Board some HCC highlights including being ranked #24 for cancer clinical care by US News & World Report; closing the gap on black and white mortality disparities with a 20% decrease in African-American mortality since 2009; a 14% increase in HPV vaccination rates; recruitment of 17 new faculty and the receiving an “Excellent-Outstanding” in the NCI re-designation. Dr. Leone concluded his presentation with information on LowVelo bike ride that is designed to bring communities together from across SC to rally to end cancer.

Dr. Cole and the Board thanked Dr. Leone for his outstanding leadership at HCC. Dr. Cole then stated that this concluded his presentation.
