The Earl B. Higgins Award 2022

The Earl B. Higgins Awards, presented annually, were established to honor the former director of minority affairs, Dr. Earl B. Higgins, and acknowledge the outstanding contributions, persistence and dedication individual members of the MUSC community (students, faculty, staff and healthcare professionals) make towards enhancing and advancing diversity and inclusion at the Medical University of S.C. Nominees should have contributed significantly in three of the following five areas and refer the appropriate areas of service in letters. Nominees contributing in more than three areas are given greater consideration.:

- Enriches diversity through student, faculty, staff and/or patient recruitment, retention and enrichment
- Improves/enhances diversity through excellence in service to patients, families, and visitors
- Advances two or more of the several targeted areas of the D&I strategic plan: education and training, engagement and inclusion, communications/community relations/outreach and impacting performance outcomes and assessment
- Recognizes and takes initiative to act upon potential opportunities to significantly affect/influence the organization's academic health center environment as it pertains to embracing diversity
- Demonstrates an understanding of the benefits of diversity within MUSC and throughout the community and promotes outcomes that "create an inclusive experience for the lives we touch."
