Item 8. 2020 Commencement/Hooding Ceremonies.

Dr. Saladin gave an update on alternate plans for commencement and/or hooding ceremonies. She reported that a survey of the students showed minimal interest in a virtual university commencement ceremony. Plans are in place for individual college hooding and award ceremonies. Four colleges are moving their ceremonies to late summer; one to July; and the other to August. These will be in-person ceremonies pending what is happening with the virus. The College of Medicine requested a modified oath ceremony outdoors with the social distancing between mid-May and June as the graduating students will be moving for their residencies. If they are unable to hold the ceremony due to the virus situation, they will hold a virtual ceremony. The College of Pharmacy will do a zoom ceremony as they too are challenged with their graduating students leaving for residencies.

Dr. Saladin reported on two groups of students that will not graduate on time. The majority of physician assistant (PA) students and occupational therapy (OT) students will not be able to meet our graduation requirements from their accrediting/licensing bodies due to their clinical rotations being stopped and the time they will are able to start back again. OT students graduating in July will be delayed at least a month. PA students graduating in August will be delayed a month or two.

FINANCE & ADMINISTRATION COMMITTEE. CHAIRMAN: MR. JAMES A. BATTLE, JR.

Mr. Patrick Wamsley, CFO, gave an update on MUSC’s financial status through February 2020. He reported a positive YTD budgeted operating margin of $9M due to favorable private grant revenues and salary expenditures due to unfilled positions. The projected budgeted funds operating margin, which was prior to CO-VID 19, is based upon historical averages from the past 3 years and through February 2020, would be a $17M bottom line June 30. There will be challenges ahead and projected loss of revenue due to the closure and/or severe reduction in Dental and Pharmacy clinics. They are currently modeling FY2021 to determine the overall impact of CO-VID 19 on MUSC’s financial position. Mr. Wamsley also showed year-over-year comparisons in operating cash of 135 YTD, compared to 134; federal grant revenues of $118M YTD, compared to $106M; and, tuition and fees have remained flat year over year due to the timing of some of the changes, especially in the College of Medicine’s fees related to their flex program. There are expectations of improvement by the end of the fiscal year.

Board Action: Received as information.

Ms. Eva Greenwood, CFO, gave an update on MUSC Physician’s financial status through February 2020. Charges and payments are currently over budget and over compared to last year. MUSC Physicians’ operating income was $19M and Carolina Family Care, including CPCP and Health Partners, shows a $3.5M operating loss, mostly due to the self-insured health plan deficit and other corporate shared expenses.

The consolidated financial statement for MUSC Physicians, including CFCPC, shows an operating income of $15M and net income of $23.5M. Mr. Greenwood stated that due to CO-VID 19, they are projecting that over the next four months clinic volume is going to drop to 20-30% of its budgeted volume. They are also projecting a $35M loss in operating income over the next four months with a year-end loss of $20M based on current projections and worst-case scenario. Ms. Greenwood reported that they are working on multiple mediation strategies to weather these changes for the next four months and the next fiscal year. Mr. Greenwood also shared the February dashboard with the six major financial metrics and key performance indicators and reported that at the end of February they are above budget and above last year.
